As You Like It

Act Two

Scene One

The Main ideas in the act

The chapter stresses the country life vs. court life. It clarifies the contrast between pastoral and urban life. It comes as an appropriate transition after Act one.

This scene takes place in the forest of Arden.

Duke S: Now my co-mates, and brothers in exile:

Hath not old custom made this life more sweet
Than that of painted pomp? Are not these woods
More free from peril than the envious Court?

Here feel we not the penalty of Adam,.....

Duke Senior describes the advantages of living in nature. He speaks to his mates about how it is free from artfulness. he says we enjoy life and contemplate every source of enjoyment. he Says we return to childhood. This quotation reflects the idea that you must experience the contrast in order to feel the meaning of life.

Pomp : artificial

Adversity: wisdom
